

Junior Technician/Architectural Assistant

Woods Hardwick is one of the UK's leading multidisciplinary professional practices specialising in the built environment, offering a complete consultancy including architecture, town planning, civil engineering, transport planning, and land surveying. They combine their breadth of expertise and depth of knowledge to deliver thoughtful, commercial and unique built environment services.

Position: Junior Technician/Architectural Assistant

Location: Birmingham

Job Type: Full Time, Permanent

Salary: negotiable

About the role:

You will be part of the successful and established residential (/development consultancy) team helping to deliver large scale multi-unit residential developments from inception through to planning determination (as guided by the project designer).

- Working on various residential led projects around the UK, from small private developers to national house builders and masterplanning schemes.
- Drafting the necessary planning drawings, in particular house types and multi-unit planning layouts, and assisting in producing all supporting documentation.
- The candidate will work within a team of technicians supporting Associates/Director and will be responsible for assisting in the design and drafting of planning drawings and documentation.
- This is a great opportunity for a keen individual to flourish in a design led environment and play a significant role in contributing to the residential architecture team

About you:

- 1-3 years' experience within the residential sector
- Relevant degree level educated (architecture, urban design etc)- desirable
- Proficiency in AutoCAD, Adobe Photoshop and Microsoft Office Software
- Experience with SketchUp and 3D rendering packages, such as V-Ray is desirable although some training can be provided;
- Design orientated, good hand drawings skills preferable;
- Energetic, enthusiastic and communicative person who works well as part of a team but can also progress works independently as required;
- Punctual, reliable and articulate individual.
- Working well as part of a team as well as individual creative thinking
- Confident, personable and proactive
- Strong communication with a high standard of written and spoken English

What we offer:

- Flexible Working
- 25 days holiday, plus additional bonus day off for your birthday
- Retirement benefits scheme
- Group income protection
- Life assurance and medical expenses scheme - commences on scheme renewal anniversary following 3 years employment
- Travel insurance - commences on scheme renewal anniversary following 3 years employment
- Regular social events
- Friendly and inclusive working environment which is dynamic and committed to growth
- Regular training and development
- The opportunity to contribute to a diverse range of projects